

Workshop:

Small is Big

Small is Big is a theatre-based workshop module designed to give the participant an orientation on how a performance is ideated, designed and created. The participants are introduced to various verticals of theatre-making like movements, music and visual design, and then by the end of the day under the guidance of the facilitators, they themselves develop a performance, which comes out of the day's activities. It can be a small skit, choreography or even a small play.
